

Graduate School of Engineering, Division of Global Architecture, Architectural and Urban Design Area, Architectural Planning, Philosophy of Architecture, Town-Planning, Exercise on Architectural Design

□Staff

Kita, Michihiro Professor

TEL:06-6879-7639

E-mail:kita

@arch.eng.osaka-u.ac.jp

Matsubara, Shigeki Associate Prof.

TEL:06-6879-7640

E-mail:shigeki

@arch.eng.osaka-u.ac.jp

□Web

<http://www.arch.eng.osaka-u.ac.jp/%7elabo3/>

□Brog

<http://labo3nikki.exblog.jp/>

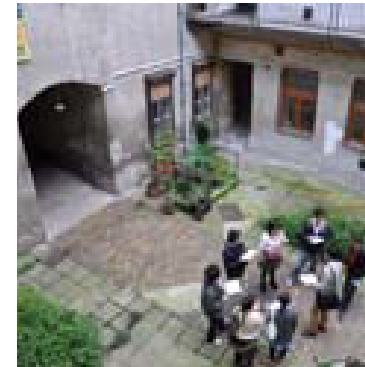

INTRODUCTION

Key word

- 1.Theory of Man- Environment
- 2.Planning Theory of Architectural Space
- 3.Visual Language for Urban Design
- 4.Human Behavior and Physical Settings
- 5.Regional Facilities for Urban Dwellers

Theme

1. Planning theory of architectural space
2. Study of architecture and urban by theory of maan-environment
3. Continuation and reconstrucion of area's context in formations of community and urban cities
4. Planning theory of the urban place and the user's mode of being (Ikata)
5. Ecological geometry of the architecture and the urban design
6. Archieving and reconstructing of Senri New town
7. Environmental design for the eldelry, handicapped people and children
8. Suggestion of architecture and infrastructure in age of shrinking cross-sectional method of planning, built environment, structure and civil engineering

3. Continuation and reconstrucion of area's context in formations of community and urban cities

This study is to find the value of continuation and reconstruction of area's context in formations of community and urban areas that was stricken and are forecasted that big earthquake would occur in age of shrinking society.
left: Jewish Quarter in Budapest

4. Planning theory of the urban place and the user's mode of being (Ikata)

This study is to find person's orientation of their experience in urban public space in viewpoint of the relationship among physical environment and social environment where person is spending.

presentation to residents after earthquake (Theme 3) Ikata at Bale-bale in Indonesia (Theme 4)

sharing history by the big book (Theme 6)

7. Environmental design for the eldelry, handicapped people and children

Everybody hope to continue to live in their houses and familiar community. We settle good environment in viewpoint of people who need to care. This is study of their environments which they live in some fields (houses, facilities and regions) Now we research housing, accessibility and barrier free for autism.